CREMATION PROCESS

Cremation is a technical process using heat and flame that reduces human remains to bone fragments. The reduction takes place through heat and evaporation. Cremation shall include the processing, and the pulverization of bone fragments. The human body is cremated with the casket, container, or other material in the cremation chamber. Some bone fragments are not combustible at the incineration temperature and, as a result, remain in the cremation chamber. During the cremation, the contents of the chamber may be moved to facilitate incineration. The chamber is composed of ceramic or other material, which disintegrates slightly during each cremation, and the product of that disintegration is commingled with the cremated remains. Nearly all of the contents of the cremation chamber, consisting of the cremated remains, disintegrated chamber material and small amount of residue from previous cremations, are removed together and crushed, pulverized, or ground to facilitate inurnment or scattering. Some residue remains in the cracks and uneven places of the chamber. Periodically, the accumulation of this residue is removed and disposed of.

CASKETS/CONTAINERS

The Crematory requires that a cremation container be used for the cremation. A wooden casket may be used, but is not required. All cremation containers and caskets must meet the following standards:

- 1) Be composed of materials suitable for cremation
- 2) Be able to be closed to provide a complete covering for human remains
- 3) Be sufficient for handling with ease
- 4) Be resistant to leakage or spillage
- 5) Be able to provide protection for the health and safety of crematory personnel

The Crematory is authorized to inspect the casket or alternative container, including opening it if necessary. In the event there is leakage or damage, the Crematory may contact the Funeral Establishment directly for instructions. The Crematory reserves the right to open the casket or alternative container to verify the identity of the deceased. Many caskets that are comprised of combustible materials also contain some exterior parts, e.g., decorative handles or rails that are not combustible and may cause damage to the cremation equipment. The Crematory, at its sole discretion, reserves the right to remove these non-combustible materials prior to cremation and to discard them with similar materials from other cremations and other refuse in a non-recoverable manner.

URNS/TEMPORARY CONTAINERS

After the cremated remains have been processed, they will be placed in the designated urn or container. The Crematory will make a reasonable effort to put all of the cremated remains in the urn or container, with the exception of dust or other residue that may remain on the processing equipment. In the event the urn or other container selected is insufficient to accommodate all of the cremated remains, the excess will be placed in a separate receptacle. The separate receptacle will be kept with the primary receptacle and handled according to the disposition instructions on the form. The Crematory requires that all urns or containers provided be appropriate for shipping or permanent storage, and that in the case of an adult, it is recommended that the urn or container be a minimum of 200 cubic inches. Unless a suitable urn is provided for the cremated remains, the Crematory will place the cremated remains in a container provided by the Crematory.

By signing this document I(we) certify, understand and acknowledge the following:

- 1) That the deceased person named above has not given other specific directions concerning the disposal of his/her remains

- 3) That I(we) are not aware of legal objection to this cremation by any spouse, child, parent or sibling
- 4) That incidental or inadvertent commingling of the cremated remains may occur, including the incidental commingling of the cremated remains resulting from the processing of the remains, and the disposal (with other residuals) by the Crematory of metal or other non-human material recovered to which may be affixed bone particles
- 5) That if I(we) wish to remove and/or retain any items from the remains, I(we) must do so directly or by designated representative prior to the cremation process
- 6) That the cremation process may destroy dental gold and silver, jewelry, or mementos, and to that extent (A) understand that dental gold and silver, jewelry and mementos to the extent it may be identified may be returned to the cremated remains container and (B) understand that dental gold and silver, jewelry and mementos that cannot be identified may not be returned to the cremated remains container and hereby direct the crematory to dispose of unidentified dental gold and silver, jewelry and mementos in a lawful manner.
